RUTH ADMIRERS STOP GAME

Spontaneous Welcome to Home Run King of Baseball Breaks Up Exhibition Play.

New York, April 11.—Several thousand men broke up an exhibition game between the New York Americans and Brooklyn Nationals on Ebbets' field today in a great demonstration for Babe Ruth, home run king of baseball.

With the score 11 to 9 in favor of the Yankees, two out and Myers of Brooklyn on first in the ninth inning, a fan started across the field to shake hands with the premier long distance hitter, who had knocked out a three base hit and a single and had scored three runs during the game. Before he could be stopped, several hundred other fans started to follow him and after several minutes delay, during which the players, umpires and police tried unsuccessfully to clear the field, the game was called.

STOMACH SUFFERERS NEED "NON-SKIDS"

To prevent acid, gas and food fermentation "upsetting" the stomach after every meal. For this purpose Bi-acids tablets are the finest little "non-skids" known. Three or four of these little tablets taken right after eating will keep the crankiest stomach from skidding if the meal was heavy, and if ever you feel your stomach slipping or even if it actually upsets, three or four of these same little tablets will put it back right side up in five minutes. Bi-acids tablets, the great little "non-skids" for dyspeptics, are obtainable of all druggists and each package contains a guarantee to relieve or prevent trouble or money back. Better get a package today for everybody who likes good eating is in danger of stomach skids and upsets.

RAIL STRIKE HURTS MARKET ACTIVITIES

Foreign Exchange, Also, Proves Disquieting Influence in Day's Trading Session.

New York, April 12.—The railroad strike and another flurry in money markets against the constructive side of today's stock market, although it did not entirely restrain pools from extending their bullish commitments in certain speculative issues.

Advices from western points that railroad disturbances were becoming more serious in their effect on general business and industrial conditions were accompanied by reports that production at some important mill plants had been cut almost in half due to scarcity of fuel.

Foreign exchange was another disquieting influence. Further acute depression in French, Italian and Belgian remittances forcing rates on those countries to new levels of discounts, while the British rate also reacted.

Call loans opened at 5 per cent as compared with last week's final quotation of 10, but soon rose to eight and repeated the recent maximum of 10 before the close of the session. Offerings of time money were almost negligible except for moderate renewals.

Stocks were lower at the outset, rallied indifferently at midday, but lost ground again very generally in the broader selling which accompanied the tightening of credits at the end. Sales amounted to 1,175,000 shares.

A few issues, notably food stocks, as represented by sugar and corn products and several of the less conspicuous deals and equipments returned parts of their rise. But otherwise the reaction carried many shares under last week's final prices.

There was much unsettlement in the bond market, resulting mainly from heavy selling of liberty issues. Of this group, the second fours and second third and fourth four and one-quarters established lowest quotations yet reported. Investment railroad and industrial bonds also reacted sharply. Total sales par value aggregated $13,875.

Old U. S. bonds remained unchanged on call.

The fine steels in a
MAXWELL
stir your enthusiasm

Ride in a Maxwell and your enthusiasm is stirred for this commendable car.

You attempt to search for the cause and you find it in the steels used in the Maxwell. Those fine steels that give rare strength.

Such steels take the burden of dragging around useless weight from the engine, providing brilliant performance.

Pound for pound the steels in a Maxwell equal those in any car built.

The Maxwell construction, employing these fine steels, results in a light-weight car, that gives not only brilliant performance, but the rare combination of durability, economy and comfort.

Today nearly 400,000 Maxwells may be seen on the world's highways. 100,000 more are in process of construction.

Still this will supply but 60% of those who have set their minds on a Maxwell for 1920.

OFF TO A GOOD START

Does The Y. M. C. A. Campaign for Maintenance Fund — Luncheon Well Attended with Inspiring Address by Hon. Charles Smith.

"He can who thinks he can," President Charles Smith of the Citizens' National bank told the Y. M. C. A. workers gathered for the noon-day luncheon yesterday in discussing the proposal to raise $7,500 to maintain the association for the current year. We should have asked for $10,000 instead of $7,500, Mr. Smith further said. The work for the young men and boys of the city demands a larger and better building with equipment of the best, the speaker said in his further remarks. It is one of the most important works in the city for the boys and young men of today are to be the men of tomorrow and all the city's activities will be in their hands. Upon them will devolve the responsibility to carry forward all the civic and social work of the community. The time has passed when men can ask "Am I my brother's keeper?" All realize fully that we are responsible for the welfare and betterment of those about us and we cannot shirk the responsibility if we would. We may leave the work undone, but the responsibility is ours. President Smith made a strong appeal to all the workers to go forth confident of success, to glean carefully the territory assigned until Wednesday noon when all limitations are to be removed and workers may solicit everywhere. The luncheon was well attended by the commanding officers, captains and many workers and an appetizing meal was served. Chairman McNeill of the committee was unavoidably called from the city on important business for the company and in his absence C. J. Beams presided. Mr. Beams outlined the project telling what improvements are needed and the expenses for which additional funds are sought. After the speech of Mr. Smith, the members of the Flying Squadron were called upon and while they had interviewed but a few people during the morning there had been subscribed by supporting members $325. This announcement was received with cheers. Brief responses were made by Mayor Cooperley, General Beckstedt and Admiral Bookhout, and the workers were sent out full of enthusiasm for the project of a larger and better Y. M. C. A. for Oneonta.

At the luncheon at noon today the workers will report of the work for the day. The address will be given by E. W. Elmore.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE MEETS.

Men Controlling Local Drive of Inter-church World Movement Organizer.

The members of the local campaign committee for the great drive of the Inter-church World movement met last evening at the Y. M. C. A. rooms for organization and conference. This committee is composed of the local director, Rev. N. S. Burd, and two representatives from each of the local churches, who are to participate in the drive. An air of optimism pervaded the meeting and all are determined that the movement shall go "over the top."

The lists of members and attendees of the several churches together with lists of non-affiliated citizens is to be in the hands of the director Thursday and at the next meeting the lists will be carefully compared to remove all duplications. As this will be a long task, which must be carefully done, it is important that the completed lists in precise alphabetical arrangement be handed in from each church at the specified time.

This great movement is entered into by about thirty denominations and the climax is the drive to be held from April 23 to May 2, inclusive, when it is expected that every citizen will be urged to contribute to the greatest religious campaign ever attempted. The large advertisements and explanatory articles, which will appear in the various papers of the entire country, should be carefully read by every citizen.

LAST PHILHARMONIC CONCERT.

Entertainment of Exceptional Merit with Celebrated Russian Violinist.

The last concert of the season of 1919-20 by the Philharmonics of Oneonta, under the competent direction of Robert E. Gardner, will be given at the Oneonta theatre this evening at 7 and 9 o'clock. In addition to the various numbers by the orchestra and by the violin quartet, composed of local artists whom Prof. Gardner has been instructing, the audience will have the pleasure of listening to Lou Wallace, famous Russian violinist, who has been secured especially for this evening, and who will be heard with pleasure by all. All lovers of good music should attend these entertainments.

Last evening the full orchestra journeyed in autos to Worcester, where a concert was given to a large crowd of Worcesterites gathered in the waiting opera house. That the Philharmonics are as popular there as they are in their home town was evidenced by the warm reception that they were given. An interesting and varied program was carried out under the direction of Mr. Gardner and the audience manifested its appreciation by applause. Lou Wallace, the Russian violinist, also scored a marked success.

Rector Forde Gives Lecture.

Rev. R. A. Forde, rector of St. James' church, gave an interesting and timely lecture on "Church Work Among the Immigrants" last evening at Municipal hall before a small but appreciative audience. The lecture was illustrated by over 100 colored lantern slides from Episcopal mission headquarters, which showed that the moment the immigrant is permitted to enter the United States he is watched by the church and is given every opportunity to become a true American citizen and also a true Christian. This church work among the immigrants is doing much in the battle against Bolshevism, and this feature was pointedly brought out in last night's lecture, which was for the benefit of the Women's auxiliary of St. James.

CAR SERVICE INTERRUPTED

High Wind Tangles Up High Tension Wires Leading from Southern New York Power House, Causing Much Trouble.

Traffic on all parts of the Southern New York railway was at a standstill for about five hours yesterday as a result of damage wrought by the wind storm that prevailed all day. Shortly before 9:30 yesterday morning, the electric power suddenly went "dead" and street cars in the city stopped. Company officials at once got to work to locate the source of the trouble and a force of men was sent out from the power house at Colliers, Pa. It seems that the high tension wires leading from the power house to the main line had become tangled together as a result of the wind, causing a short circuit.

Meantime, the steam power plant at Hartwick was looked to for temporary relief. At this season of the year, water power is relied on wholly to provide the current, and hence the steam plant was not fully prepared for the emergency. Necessary repairs had to be made to the boilers and it was some time before steam was being generated, and then there was only enough power to provide for the industrial plants along the Southern New York which get their electrical power from the company. The line gang that had been sent out succeeded early in the afternoon in locating the source of the trouble, which was between Colliers and Clintonville. Once located, however, the trouble was soon remedied, and at about 2:30, the "juice" was again running through the wires, and the cars were again able to move. The company anticipates no further trouble but will keep the steam plant in readiness for any emergency use.

Wild West Performance Interrupted.

Stanley Falcon of 8 Dewey street was arraigned before Acting Judge M. C. Hemstreet in city court yesterday morning, charged with the violation of section 43 of the penal law, or "openly outraging public decency." He pleaded guilty to the charge and was fined $5, which he paid.

Falcon was arrested Sunday afternoon by Patrolmen Simmons and Cross. He was out on the street in front of his home wildly waving a shotgun and threatening to shoot any and everybody. Residents of the vicinity became alarmed at the impromptu wild west performance and notified the police. It is said the man had been indulging in the forbidden liquor and when arrested, was in a rather "tipsy" condition.

PHILHARMONICS AT WORCESTER

Large Audience Delighted by Entertainment Given Last Evening by Oneonta Musicians.

Worcester, April 12. — Gardner's Philharmonic orchestra of Oneonta tonight delighted residents of Worcester for the second time, with an excellent and complete program given in the Westing opera house for the benefit of the Worcester band. There was a large attendance, and the band will net a neat sum from the entertainment.

Mr. Gardner and his fellow musicians needed no introduction to Worcesterites, for they appeared here last year and established themselves firmly in popular favor at that time. The concert tonight was of the finest quality and pleased the most critical, as well as those who came just for the purpose of enjoying an evening of real entertainment and worth. And they got it.

The program of the concert was a varied one and included marches, overtures and popular selections. One of the most enjoyable features of the evening was a lullaby given by a violin quartet composed of Messrs. Gardner, Wallace, Canning and Bouton. Mr. Wallace is a Russian and in his interpretation of "Heide Kati" by Jeno Hubay showed that he was a master of his art.

The members of the orchestra were appreciative of the reception given them by Worcester citizens, the Worcester band entertaining them before the concert at a supper in Grange hall. There was also a social time following the concert. The evening was one of mutual joy and appreciation and will join in looking forward to a similar event next year.

Congratulations will be extended to the parents and grandparents.

YOUNG BUSINESS MAN MARRIED

Miss Maud A. Tallmadge Bride of Dewey R. Torrey in Pretty Ceremony at Couple's Home Yesterday Morning.

In the presence of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Torrey and Miss Travilla Torrey, parents and sister of the groom, and Miss Florence Tallmadge, a sister of the bride, Dewey R. Torrey was married yesterday to Miss Maud A. Tallmadge of Maryland. The ceremony was performed at 1:30 in the morning at the couple's future home, 52 Maple street, by Rev. Dr. E. J. Farley, pastor of the First Baptist church, the Episcopal ring service being used. The ceremony was a simple but impressive one. The bride appeared beaming in a traveling suit of brown tulle.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served in the appropriately-decorated home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Torrey left for a week's automobile trip to New York, Atlantic City and Washington. Upon their return, they will occupy the newly-furnished home which Mr. Torrey recently purchased at 52 Maple street, adjoining the home of his parents at 1 Irving place.

The groom, who is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. K. J. Torrey, has been a life-long resident of Oneonta. After passing through the grammar school at the Normal, he entered the Oneonta High school and after taking a three years' business course left to enter his father's meat market on Main street. Soon afterward, he was taken into partnership by his father and the firm has since been known as R. J. Torrey & Son. He is a likable young man with a large number of friends both in and out of city business circles.

The bride is a native of Stamford and is a daughter of the late Arthur A. Tallmadge. For several years past, she had made her home in Maryland with her mother, Mrs. Olive Rich. In June, 1917, she was graduated from the Oneonta State Normal school and taught for one year in Tuxedo Park. For the past two years, she has held a lucrative government position in Washington. She is an attractive young lady and by all who know her is held in high esteem.

Mr. and Mrs. Torrey were the recipients of many beautiful and costly presents, including a chest of silver and a dining room set, gifts of the groom's father. Residents of our city will extend a cordial welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Torrey upon their return as Oneonta citizens and will wish them many years of happiness together.

HOW TO BE RID OF DANGEROUS DANDRUFF

If you have dandruff you must get rid of it quick—it's positively dangerous and will surely ruin your hair if you don't. Dandruff leads mean faded, brittle, gray, scraggly hair that will not grow. You are bald and nothing can help you.

The only sure way to abolish dandruff for good is to destroy the germ that causes it. To do this quickly, surely and safely, and at little expense, there is nothing so effective as Parisian sage, which you can get from Geo. S. Slade and good druggists everywhere. It is guaranteed to banish dandruff, stop itching scalp and falling hair, and promote a new growth. O. the cost, small as it is, will be refunded.

Parisian sage is a scientific preparation that soothes all hair needs—on antiseptic liquid neither sticky or greasy, easy to apply, and delicately perfumed.

Be Careful About Seeds.

The successful gardener is always careful about the selection of seeds, it being very disappointing to mellow the soil and plant carefully and then find that the seeds were not of the best. The seeds produced by the Jerome B. Rice Seed company, while given no warranty whatever, are grown with great care and effort and may be depended upon as the very best that can be secured in this section. Many of the most successful gardeners herabouts will use only Rice's seeds.

45 Tons of Sardines Caught in One Haul

Monterey, Cal.—Catching 45 tons of sardines in a single haul, but forced to throw back into the water all but the 45 tons, was the experience of sardine fishermen of Monterey Bay, according to a writer, who describes a trip taken with a party of fishermen.

"If we could sell all the fish we catch we would soon all be rich," the captain is quoted as saying.

The boat made its catch in about two hours and the writer remarked: "It is hard to believe that such quantities of food lie right at our door, and only a small part of it utilized."

Sure Signs of Storm

A sudden and local motion of the air, not otherwise seen but by its whirling up the dust on a dry road in calm weather, in the manner of a waterspout, is a sure sign of a coming storm. When swallows fly low it is a sign of approaching rain. This is accounted for by the fact that before rain insects which the swallows' food fly very low, and the swallows always fly where their food is.

J. S. IS QUICKER SHIPBUILDER

Great Britain, However, Has More Tonnage Under Construction in Its Yards.

London.—An analysis of Lloyd's register returns for the quarter that ended December 31, made by an American Chamber of Commerce in London, indicate that, for the first time since the United States became a shipbuilder on a large scale, British shipyards show signs of regaining their former supremacy.

The tonnage now building in the United Kingdom, says the American chamber, exceeds by 27,722 tons that under present construction in the United States, where the decrease in the building of new tonnage amounts to 704,000 tons, as compared with the figures for September last.

The American chamber remarks that the tonnage under construction may not be so good a basis for judgment as the amount of tonnage actually launched, and that the United States is putting ships on the water more rapidly than Great Britain.

Laborers Buy $25 Shirts

New York.—Louis B. Tim, silk shirt manufacturer, reports silk shirts selling at $25, "and the peculiar thing about it," he said, "is that we sell more of these shirts to workmen than we do to millionaires."

CHARLES FAIL INDIAN

Did Not Protect Him When He Blew Out Gas.

Keokuk, Ia.—Chief of his way to Washington dies in Chicago Hotel.

ago.—The tribe of Kanyas Indians on the reservation in Umatilla county, near Pendleton, Ore., are awaiting assurance from their chief, U. M. Sapa Kina, that their hands will not be taken from them. They will learn that he died in a hotel at 603 South Wells street, asphyxiated by gas. It is believed that he blew out the lamp. His chiefs of four snake heads failed to protect him.

Chief Sapa Kina was on his way to Washington to appear before the Indian board of commissioners to plead that his people be protected from a firm that is attempting to take parts of their land away through court proceedings for failure to pay an alleged debt. It is said.

Adam Bird, owner of the hotel, detecting the odor of gas, traced it to the Indian's room. The South Clark street police were summoned, but it was found he was dead. Tied to a string around his neck were four small chamber pots. Within them were the dried heads of four snakes.

He had worn a sombrero, boots, yellow duck trousers and a black shirt. He carried four blankets. The body was taken to the Central undertaking rooms at 318 Federal street.

Among the papers found were those of a law firm demanding that the chief appear before them and straighten out a money matter, threatening court procedure if he failed to do so. The chief carried affidavits proving his side and a map and blue prints showing the land owned by the tribe. Traveling orders and appearance papers for a hearing before the commissioners were also found.

TRICOLETTE FOR GOWNS

Fashion continues to smile on tricolore gowns and this rich material looks particularly well made up in straight line models. Striped effects in plain colors, made by a drop-stitch in the weave, are used for handsome gowns like that pictured above. In this the stripes are arranged to run lengthwise in the bodice and both lengthwise and horizontally in the tunic and skirt. The open neck is filled in at the front with flesh-colored georgette. A dress of this kind in dark tones of the fashionable colors proves especially becoming to stout figures.

Secretary Baker a "Bartender."

"I might have a chance to get a job after March 4, 1921," said Secretary of War Baker the other day, "if it had not been for the prohibition business."

"Once when I was mayor of Cleveland I had a hand in settling a labor row. When it was all over one of the men asked me if I carried a union card. I replied that I did not, but would be very glad to have the chance to do so. In the next day's mail I got a card entitling me to life membership in the bartenders' union."

"I carry the card to this day, but now I am afraid it will not do me much good."—New York Sun.

The Hard Job

A butternut is about the toughest proposition in the world till it is cracked. Then how sweet the meat is! Hard jobs come to us all. They are rough and tough, till we master them. The most beautiful things in the world after that!

Early Prejudice Retained.

The prejudice about being the first occupiers of a new house is perhaps a dim recollection of our prehistoric ancestors' attitude toward a newly discovered cave. There might be wild beasts already in occupation.

DROPS THREE MILES

Aviator Has Trilling Experience Trying for Record.

Oxygen Tank Begins to Fail and Flyer Almost Loses Consciousness.

Dayton, O.—Dropping 14,000 feet while six miles in the air and still alive today was an experience through which Maj. R. W. Schroeder, chief test pilot at McCook field and champion altitude flyer of the secret service, passed recently.

Major Schroeder formerly lived on Washington boulevard, Chicago. He made his first flight over the stock yards here ten days ago.

While making a maximum test flight in a Le Pere ship, in which he has been flying for altitudes, Schroeder noticed the thermometer of the ship. It registered 32 degrees below zero.

In this extreme cold the oxygen tank began to fail.

He had nearly lost consciousness when he suddenly realized that he was losing his sense of direction and control. He reached for the throttle of his ship and missed. He then tried the switches.

Suddenly the ship dropped. At 18,000 feet Major Schroeder partly regained consciousness and found that his ship was turning a spiral. In a desperate effort he righted the Le Pere, which began diving safely into McCook field.

As a result of the ordeal Schroeder's sense of hearing is dulled.

He was at the hangars next day preparing to make another flight. Nerves shaken? No!

Gasoline Locomotives New

Gasoline locomotives that are safe to use in coal mines have been invented in England, their ignition taking place inside of tight boxes and their exhaust through water.
